'30,000 feet view': newsletter provides insights and themes for Indian equity markets. We also try and cover international themes for the day. This newsletter is quite popular with traders as it covers the most preferred trading strategy for Sensex/Nifty for the day.

In Chart of the day section, we recommend a stock which is likely to move significantly in the short term, clearly defining the supports, the resistances and bias for the stock.

In a nutshell, '30,000 feet view': covers themes and insights for the day.

'30,000 feet view': The big picture of Dalal Street

Good Morning & Welcome to Monday's trading action at Dalal Street, dated 8th of October 2018.

Early indications at SGX Nifty is suggesting that our stock markets will get another bruise and most importantly, respite for stock-market investors unlikely.

That brings us to our call of the day which suggests that volatility will accentuate and this time, you can blame it to weak Wall Street's cues in Friday's trade.

Well, Wall Street ended sharply lower on Friday amidst a powerful climb in government bond yields. The yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury note was up 3 basis points at 3.227%.

A higher yield usually dampens the enthusiasm for risky assists like stocks, as bonds offers higher returns for income-seeking investors, without the risk or volatility typically associated with equities. So, a reassessment of stock prices quite likely.

The negative takeaway was that the major indices ended deep in red despite September jobs report, which pointed to strength in the labor market and the broader economy.

Meanwhile, Friday's strong September U.S jobs report will keep on putting pressure on the Indian Rupee which the street now expects to tank towards 75 levels against the USD. Now before we get into detail, here is a recap of Friday's trading session:

'Nervousness & panic prevailed in Friday's trade as there was no respite from the bearish headlines. Blame it to today's 'STATUS QUO' surprise from the RBI or the diving Indian Rupee or the FII'S selling as the key culprit, but the fact is that, Dalal Street's house of cards have collapsed.

The benchmark Nifty nosedived 2.67% in Friday's trade, closing at 10316.45. Sensex also breached the psychological 35000 mark as it closed at 34376.99.

The street was also seen concerned after the government was seen blinking, by reducing petrol and diesel prices by Rs 2.5 a litre. FM Jaitley was seen saying the exchequer would take a hit of Rs 210 billion on an annualised basis due to the excise duty cut

Net-net, the sky has fallen on Dalal Street and it just resembles a panic room at the moment. Permabulls must be feeling cornered and threatened as they witness tremendous financial devastation of their portfolios.

These thoughts force us to keep books light and in line with our call of the day which suggests bracing for volatility in near term. The best way to trade this market is to establish long positions only above Nifty 10,801 mark. Until then, makes sense to keep books light. Also, we believe, this market has much work to do to be on the ultra-bullish side again, so the best strategy is to wait it out.

Bottom-line: Makes sense to stay light and lighten long positions on any dead cat bounce.

Outlook for Monday: Volatility will be hallmark.

Judging by early indication at SGX Nifty, we suspect, Dalal Street has nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat. Expect more doom and gloom for Dalal Street and amidst this backdrop, the benchmark Nifty in near term could tank towards March 2018 lows at 9951.90 zone.

Dalal Street will most likely to start the week on a cautious note as the street will closely watch reaction of Asian stocks after a weak close at Wall Street in Friday's trade. We suspect, after an early morning bruise, the benchmarks may try and consolidate: Focus will immediately shift to the following catalysts:

- 1. Trend in Oil prices on backdrop of US sanctions on Iran.
- 2. The upcoming assembly elections in five states- Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh, Mizoram and Telangana.
- 3. Q2 results of corporate India.

GLOBAL CUES:

 In last week's trade, the S&P 500 slid 1%, its second straight weekly decline. The Nasdaq declined 3.2% and the Dow is mostly flat. In Friday's trade, Wall Street ended sharply lower on Friday amidst worries about rising interest rates. Usually, rising yields could dampen appetite for stocks.

Meanwhile, Dow on Wednesday's trade did hit an all-time high of 26,951.81. Over the past three months, the S&P has risen more than 7%, and the blue chip Dow Jones index was up about 9%.

FII/DII & OPTIONS DATA:

- FPIs pull out Rs 9,300 crore in just 4 sessions.
- As per option data, key resistance level for the September series for Nifty are at 10,800 strike price as maximum call open interest of 28.68 lakh contracts were seen at the 10,800 strike price.

COMMODITY CUES:

• Crude Oil prices ended nearly flat on Friday and hovered near 4-year highs. Oil prices have tallied a fourth weekly advance in a row amidst reports that China is cutting back on Iranian oil purchases, as well as on talks that the U.S. has no plans to tap its Strategic Petroleum Reserve to make up for Iranian oil barrels lost amid U.S. sanctions. Please note, oil prices have firmed up recently on backdrop of declining Iranian exports, which have come ahead of oil-specific U.S. sanctions against Tehran that are set to take effect early next month.

The nervousness at Dalal Street is set to deepen as crude-oil prices are seen marching from strength to strength.

- Copper prices were seen trading firm in Friday's trade amidst value buying. Bias continues to be positive. MCX COPPER (465): Interweek strategy: Establish long positions on dips between 451-455 zone, targeting 471 and then finally at 481-485 zone with stop at 439.05.
- Gold futures were seen trading with positive bias amidst strength in USD/INR. Interweek strategy: Establish long positions between 31201-31301 zone, targeting 31701 mark and then aggressive targets at 31900 with stop at 30771.

MACRO WATCH:

Following are the highlights of RBI's Fourth bi-monthly monetary policy statement for 2018-19:

- Reporate unchanged at 6.5%.
- Reverse repo rate remains unchanged at 6.25%.
- MSF, Bank Rate Rate remains unchanged at 6.75%.

Technical Strategy

MAHANAGAR GAS (MGL)	779.55
Action	SELL ON STRENGTH
Target	745
Support	761/745
Resistance	801/827.50
Holding Period	9 Days.

In Friday's trade, MAHANAGAR GAS (MGL) ended on a negative note and was seen breaking down from a lower consolidation zone on the daily charts, down 1.80%.

Technically, the momentum oscillators are signaling a major breakdown. The stock is seen moving down on daily charts, backed by negative reverse divergences.

Key support to watch in near term is at 761 zone. Medium term supports seen at 745-751 zone.

We expect Mahanagar Gas to underperform the benchmark Nifty significantly.

Establishing short positions between 787-797 zone, as the stock is likely to stage steep decline towards 761 and then aggressive targets seen at 745-751 zone. Place stops above 807. Holding Period: 9 days.

'30,000 feet view': The big picture of Dalal Street

- Retains GDP growth aim at 7.4% for FY19.
- Next MPC meet scheduled Dec 3- Dec 5
- Reserve Bank Governor Urjit Patel on Friday said it was crucial that the fiscal deficit target is maintained as any slippage would impact inflation and crowd out private sector investment apart from increasing market volatility. The fiscal deficit target for 2018-19 is Rs. 6.24 lakh crore.
- Amongst macroeconomic events, India's industrial production (IIP) data for August and retail inflation (CPI) prints for September will be released this Friday, 12th October 2018. Industrial production grew 6.6% in July, backed by the good performance of the manufacturing sector and higher offtake of capital goods and consumer durables. The street is expecting the IIP numbers to remain the same for August also. Please note, if the numbers are higher than the August month then that should infuse positive sentiment at Dalal Street.
- The landscape is bit scary especially on the escalating trade tension between U.S-China. This catalyst could be the real villain rattling worldwide stock markets. The heightened tensions between U.S. -China could not only hamper U.S. economic growth but derail the global economy at large.

CURRENCIES & BONDS:

• In Friday's trade, the Indian Rupee was seen tanking against the US dollar to a fresh record low of 74 intraday.

At the current level, the rupee has declined around 13% against the greenback so far this year. Data shows the RBI spent $6.2 billion defending the rupee in June. This eased to $1.8 billion in July when markets stabilised, and is estimated to have remained around $2 billion in August despite renewed market volatility.

Ascent in U.S Dollar index: The U.S Dollar index is seen gaining momentum on backdrop of Italian budget turmoil which knocked EURO lower!

What Technical Tells Us on Nifty:

Nifty ended with major losses in Friday's trade, down 259 points at 10,316.45 mark. The negative takeaway was that the sell-off was broad based.

The benchmark's fall continued their downtrend for five consecutive week. This was Sensex's biggest-ever weekly fall, with the Sensex losing about 1,850 points, or 5.11%, and Nifty shedding 614 points or 5.62%.

The market breadth, indicating the overall health of the market, was weak in Friday's trade. The BSE Mid-Cap index lost 2.7%. The S&P BSE Small-Cap index lost 2.02%.

Technically speaking, key support for the day on Nifty is at 10,201 mark. The technical landscape will worsen further if Nifty closes below the 10,201 mark as that would open the door to massive technical selling, possibly quickly towards the 9,951-10,001 zone.

The intraday bias is neutral/negative and selling on any corrective strength should be the preferred strategy.

The make or break hurdles are at 10,811 mark. Intraday hurdles at 10,501 mark.

The price action for Nifty is suggesting that we are likely to see an 10,250-11,111 range in near term with neutral bias.

Bulls Vs. Bears: Time to Pick a Side!!

Volatility likely to be the hallmark of today's trade. Well, it is a no brainer to continue expecting uncertain times in our financial markets, until we can knock off these three black swans off the front page:

- 1. The widening trade deficit.
- 2. The depreciating Indian Rupee.
- 3. The boiling oil prices.

Preferred trade on Nifty: Nifty (10316): Sell on any excessive strength between 10401-10425 zone, targeting 10201 zone and then aggressive targets at 9751-10001 zone with stop at 10901.

Preferred trade on Bank Nifty: Bank Nifty (24443): Sell on any excessive strength between 25151-25251 zone, targeting 24001 zone and then aggressive targets at 22651-22751 zone with stop at 25901.
